

DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE

WASHINGTON, D. C.

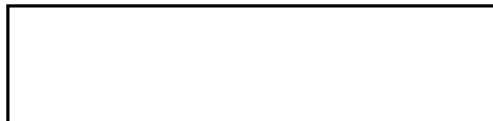

15 June 1976

Professor James C. Bradford
History Department
United States Naval Academy
Annapolis, Maryland 21402

Dear Professor Bradford:

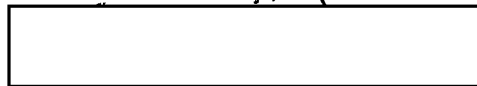

I would be happy to talk to the U.S. Naval Academy History Club again as you suggest and February is a good time for me also. The same format as last year is fine. That was a most enjoyable evening and you couldn't have provided a more attentive and responsive audience.

After my retirement at the end of this month, I can be reached at the following address and phone number:

With every good wish,

Faithfully, \

Vernon A. Walters
Lieutenant General, USA

STATINTL

✓1-ER
1-A/DCI
2-DDCI

(EXECUTIVE REGISTRY FILE)

DDCI

UNITED STATES NAVAL ACADEMY

Annapolis, Maryland—21402

History Department

IN REPLY REFER TO:

9 June 1976

Lt. General Vernon Walters, USA
Deputy Director of Central Intelligence
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D. C. 20505

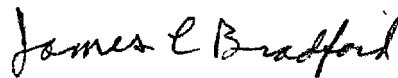

Dear General Walters:

I am beginning to put together our History Club program for next year. Your last year's address was the high-point of our program and we would much appreciate it if you could work us into your calendar again. The format would be the same as last year, an address to a large audience followed by punch and cookies and questions from midshipmen on a more informal basis, if that is acceptable to you.

The best dates for us would be during one of the first two weeks of February on any weekday evening but Friday. If one of these dates does not fit in your schedule, a night in October would also be desirable.

I can not promise you a red and white striped stage with blue bunting like last year but I am sure that the midshipmen will receive you just as warmly. Thank you for consideration.

Sincerely,

JAMES C. BRADFORD
Assistant Professor